IPFW Students Visit Logikos and BAE

Our students had an opportunity to visit two amazing local employers this month: BAE Systems, a leader in the research, development, and production of defense and security products; and Logikos, a custom software company. In the few hours students were on site, they were able to learn more about the mission of the organizations, open internships and entry level positions, information about technical careers in general, and tour the facilities.

The employer hosts graciously answered many questions about all areas of their businesses, and the students appreciated the opportunity to learn about the organizational culture from professionals. Majors represented included computer science, engineering, and business.

Looking for a unique way to connect students with your company? Consider hosting a site visit of your own. Contact Josiah Brown 260-481-0165 or broj@ipfw.edu.
