Reverse Career Fair 2015

The Reverse Career Fair is an opportunity for student leaders who are a part of IPFW affiliated groups to meet and connect with employers. Unlike a traditional career fair, at the Reverse Career Fair the students are behind the tables, while employers walk around to mingle and meet with students at their booths. This is a wonderful opportunity for students to discuss their skills and what sets them apart, in a more intimate setting than other career fair events.

Employers have the chance to discuss current or future opportunities with students while providing an understanding of what they are looking for in prospective employees.

Students are encouraged to register for the fair with their IPFW affiliated group. Each registered group gets its own table at the fair that can be decorated to showcase its members and their involvement on campus. Students should use this opportunity to market themselves to employers by showcasing the skills they have gained from their involvement with the organization. This is a wonderful networking opportunity for student leaders to demonstrate why these experiences have been beneficial to their career development.

The Reverse Career Fair will be held Thursday, March 19, 2015, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Walb Student Union Classic Ballroom. Don't miss this opportunity to mingle and network with our student leaders and discover the professional and leadership skills they can offer your organization.
