Collegiate faculty and staff,

As a member of the collegiate environment, you have a direct impact on the future of our consulting engineering community. This is a significant role and ACEC Indiana wishes to thank you for your efforts and assist you in any possible means.

American Council of Engineering Companies of Indiana, Inc., (ACEC Indiana), is a professional trade association of Indiana’s premier consulting engineering firms in partnership with national ACEC. Our more than 120 member firms and associate member companies—representing thousands of professionals in the engineering industry across Indiana—specialize in water, wastewater, structural, transportation, mechanical, electrical, architectural, environmental, geotechnical, and many other services. We work hard to be the advocate for engineering firms in legislation and business, upholding our reputation as “the voice of the industry.”

The ACEC Education Committee is dedicated to providing scholarship opportunities for Indiana students pursuing an education in engineering. Through the Scholarship Program, ACEC Indiana awards meaningful scholarships to Indiana students pursuing an engineering degree at an ABET-accredited university or college in Indiana.

In 2015, ACEC Indiana awarded $13,000 between seven students (over half that applied) in Indiana. The top scholar from Purdue University received an additional $10,000 from National ACEC. For a full list of scholarship recipients, see below.

Deadline for submission for the next round of scholarships is Feb. 5, 2016. Find out more at: http://www.acecindiana.org/?page=Scholarship.

By instilling the importance of education and community outreach in Indiana’s students, we are creating generations of active adults, thoughtful leaders, and responsible citizens. Please feel free to contact Colleen Merkel at ACEC Indiana at (317) 637-3563 regarding any scholarship questions or if you have career fairs that you would like to share with our consulting engineering community. You can learn more about ACEC Indiana at http://acecindiana.org.

Sincerely,

ACEC Education Committee
